

ASX Announcement

COMMENCEMENT OF NEW CEO

Hannans Ltd (ASX: HNR) (Hannans or the Company), an emerging ASX-listed lithium-ion battery recycling business, is pleased to advise that Mr Brett Salt, the Company's new Chief Executive Officer (CEO), commenced this week.

The Board takes this opportunity to welcome Brett and look forwards to working with him.

Hannans' CEO, Mr Brett Salt, said:

"I am thrilled to be leading Hannans' transformation into a sustainable battery recycler and high-value critical minerals provider for the European market. At the heart of this transformation is Hannans' best in class licensed battery recycling technology that will safely eliminate battery waste and "close the loop" by recovering high-value battery materials such as lithium, nickel, copper, cobalt and anode materials from core chemistries.

Hannans' team and I are 100% focussed on executing our strategy to become a meaningful player in the battery materials value chain and delivering value for shareholders. "

Further information, including a biography of Brett's career and employment details, can be found in the ASX Announcement titled "Appointment of Brett Salt as CEO" dated 9 June 2023.

This ASX announcement has been authorised for release by Hannans' Board of Directors.
